

KEO WOOLFORD

I Land

Free Workshop
Fun With Hula Basics
Mon., March 22, 2010
7:30 - 9:30 p.m.

No experience necessary

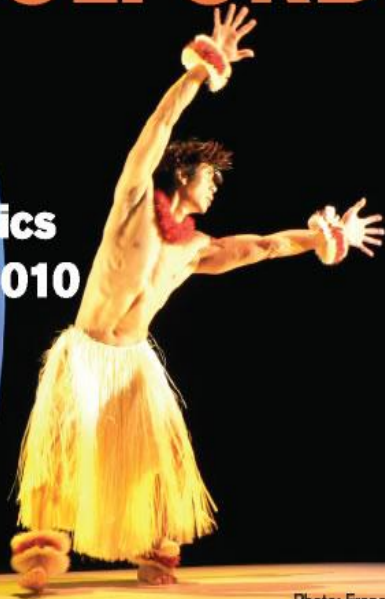

Photo: Frances Hui

Powerful Poignant Comical Provocative

DON'T MISS KEO WOOLFORD'S I LAND AT ASU GAMMAGE!

Saturday, March 27, 2010 - 7 p.m. - ASU Gammage

I Land depicts a young man's powerful discovery of his identity. Keo Woolford's search for the meaning of his Hawaiian heritage is at once hilarious, moving and provocative. Hula, Hip Hop and Spoken Word take us through Keo's journey from football star, to Boy Band singer to the emotional discovery of his Hawaiian heritage and complex identities. Don't miss Keo Woolford in I Land!

Have fun learning hula basics. Keo Woolford will lead this short intensive class where we will be working on basic hula steps and learning a very simple combination (to a contemporary song) to introduce you to hula. In the style of Auntie Ma'iki Aiu Lake as passed on to Robert Cazimero, this class will help with your understanding of the basic movements, the hand and feet coordination and the essence of the "story telling" expression of hula (it's not as easy as you think!), set in a relaxed and fun environment. No experience necessary.

South Mountain Community College

7050 South 24th Street
Phoenix, AZ 85042-5898

Parking will be free and available in the SMCC North Lot.

To sign up, call the SMCC Performing Arts Office at 602.243.8382 or e-mail smcc@smcmail.maricopa.edu.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Tickets at ASU Gammage & asugammage.com ticketmaster • 800.982.ARTS(2787)

$10 students / $20 all others

SPONSORED BY

U.S AIRWAYS MARGARET T. MORRIS FOUNDATION

ASU GAMMAGE
ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY